

Letters of the Month:

A/a – animals, ant, acorn
 T/t– transportation, tower, truck
 P/p– people, pie, public
 G/g –Gobble, Goodies, Grandma

What will the Rhinos Explore this Month at our Enrichment Centers?

Math: Introduce fractions by dividing sets of different farm animals into different groups.

Literacy: Create a group story by identifying our favorite modes of transportation and using our imaginations to go on a trip.

Art: Have fun making our own turkeys and decorating our room with painting with feathers, creating a Thanksgiving feast collage, making our own unique placemats and drawing our own pictures to show what we are thankful for.

Science: To learn about force & motion and experience the Wind!

Music & Movement: To imitate wind by using our parachute while listening to music & different rhythms. We will also pretend to be turkeys!

Rhinos' Favorite Tune...

Turkey, Turkey What do you see?

Turkey, Turkey, what do you see?
 I see the Mayflower looking at me.
 Mayflower, Mayflower, what do you see?
 I see Plymouth Rock, waiting for me.
 Plymouth, Plymouth Rock, what do you see?
 I see a teepee close by the sea.
 Teepee, Teepee, what do you see?
 I see some Pilgrims standing near me.
 Pilgrims, Pilgrims what do you see?
 We see turkey and cranberries,
 Corn and Pumpkin pie,
 A Thanksgiving Day dinner is what we spy.

Teacher Fun Facts:

- * Ms. Jeet traditionally spends a few bucks in a big way shopping during the holiday weekend!
- * Ms. Janice and her family will be staying home for the holidays and attempting to prepare their own turkey dinner together!

The Rhino Review

November 2011

Turkey, Turkey, Turkey! Its almost time to enjoy the company of family and friends once again. This season is very exciting for the rhino friends as they get ready for the holidays. Along with the curriculum activities, we will be very busy learning about all of the traditional symbols and stories. Don't forget to encourage your child to participate as you enjoy the holiday.

Mrs. Wishy-Washy's Farm
By Joy Cowley

Cow, Duck and Pig were tired of being washed by Mrs. Wishy-Washy so, they run away to the big city and the excitement begins. This is a fast-paced delightful story with whimsical pictures. The children truly enjoy the adventure and its only Mrs. Wishy-Washy who can save the day. A good read!

10 Fat Turkeys
By Tony Johnston

We love to present books that provide a learning experience while being entertaining. 10 Fat Turkeys does just that. The children have fun counting down from 10 while following a hilarious tale of 10 silly birds. This is a cute holiday pick for any age.

Thanksgiving is For Giving Thanks
By Margaret Sutherland

Thanksgiving is a special holiday about tradition and family. Emphasizing these concepts to our children enriches their lives. This book is a perfect selection for sharing this special day with your child.
